The New Holland T5 Electro Command was launched in the UK at a freezing cold LAMMA alongside the new TD5 range.

The T5 Electro Command, semi powershift transmission is an optimised version of the acclaimed transmission currently fitted to the popular T6 range. This highly efficient transmission, features 16 forward and reverse gears, and enables operators to select up to eight gears via up or downshift buttons on the dedicated transmission lever without physically moving it. The T5 maintains the option of using the 24x24 dual command transmission.

The entire T5 range comply with the stringent Tier 4A emissions regulations, through the use of the exceptionally fuel efficient 3.4 litre Common Rail F5C engines and Cooled Exhaust Gas Recirculation systems.

The Deluxe Vision View Cab, has been designed around you and gives a comfortable operator experience, great visibility front and rear and a high visibility roof hatch to give a perfect view of your loader.

Horsepower is between 99-114 over the range and electronic draft control comes as standard.

Call your local C&O depot to find out more about the T5 range and come and get a closer look for yourself.

Fertiliser spreaders by Kuhn - buy now at out of season prices

We're stocking twin disc models from the Axis range; 30.1, 40.1 and 40.1W.

There is a working width of between 12 and 42m. The capacity range is 1200 min and 3000 l maximum. The CDA distribution system ensures multiple pallet feeding for improved distribution and gives an impressive spread capacity of around 500g per minute.

Kuhn's Quantron control boxes ensure application rates proportional to the travel speed (DPAE) and give full control over the application rate and the controlling or closing of the flow on either side. Users receive a range of information about work underway. With the ability to store signals from 4 different tractors, integrated GPS control and a simple intuitive interface the Quantron is built to work around your needs.

Pop down to your local C&O to find out more about the Axis fertiliser spreaders.

The drop point adjustment for setting the working width gives great ease of adjustment, maximum readability & access and guarantees no more hand/fertiliser contact.

Two coupling heights allow flexible adaptation to the tractor whatever its configuration and spreading type: on low or high crops (late top dressing). Hopper and hopper extensions shape with broken angles for improved fertilizer flow to the hopper bases, with low residual quantity and easy cleaning.

Introducing Ben Best

C&O Blandford have welcomed Ben Best to the sales team. Ben will be working in the Purbecks and surrounding area. Ben comes to us with experience working in the dairy supply business and supplying tractor and machinery parts. Ben's very familiar with the patch, having lived on the Isle of Purbeck his whole life, in his spare time he helps run a beef herd with his father and grandfather and is actively involved with Dorset YFC.

Ben can be contacted on 07980 730244
