C&O Open Day

A big thank you to all our customers old and new who supported our recent Open Day at our Blandford headquarters. We were completely overwhelmed by the turnout, with over 500 people attending throughout the day, who managed to consume 3 whole hog roasted pigs and cause parking chaos on the industrial estate. We were delighted to support George Hiscock and the Sturminster Newton Young Farmers Club on their epic lawnmower ride to Weymouth in aid of the Air Ambulance and through our own raffle we raised a further £270 for the Air Ambulance on the night.

On what is normally a social occasion for the farming community C&O secured 5 new tractor deals whilst 1 round baler and a selection of Kuhn, Watson and Honda equipment and machinery were also sold on the night. Along with their new machinery these customers will be receiving our previously advertised Open Day promotional gifts, ranging from ipad minis to C&O vouchers. The stores and horticulture department were also very busy on the day.

The Open Day took a lot of organising and hard work, this year spearheaded by Catherine Snow, our Marketing Coordinator, and ably assisted by the sales, workshop, stores and accounts staff who all put in a great effort. Thanks also go to the representatives from New Holland and our machinery manufacturers including Kuhn, Shelbourne Reynolds, Teagle, Knight and Alo Quicke who supported us on the night and Kingston Maurward and Future Roots who came along with information and displays on their activities.

Student of the year

C&O, Kingston Maurward College, Dorset NFU and New Holland launched the search for Kingston Maurward's NFU Agricultural Student of the Year at C&O's recent Blandford Open Day. 15 of the students in contention for the prize travelled to Blandford for the launch and met Dorset NFU Chairman Paul Gould and C&O Managing Director Andy Coles before being given a tour of C&O by Sales Manager Matthew Holland.

Twenty five second year Level 3 Diploma in Agriculture students at Kingston Maurward College will take part in the contest on June 20th, which will consist of a series of tests including livestock, machinery and estate skills tasks followed by a 50-question multiple choice paper.

Kingston Maurward College Head of Agriculture Tim Stephens said: "This competition has proved to be exciting and fulfilling for all of the competitors in the last two years, and this year is no exception – the students are looking forward to achieving the top position in this coveted and prestigious prize."

Speaking at the launch C&O's Andy Coles said, 'On behalf of C&O Tractors I'm really pleased that we are once again involved in the Student of the Year competition. Kingston Mauward has a record of producing excellent students and I'm glad we're able to recognise this achievement with the award. Meeting some of the contenders for this year's award at C&O's Blandford Open Day I have been bowled over by the enthusiasm and energy of the students.'

Richard Spencer, New Holland's Marketing Manager said, "C&O Tractors Ltd and New Holland are proud to support Kingston Maurward College in their search for their Student of the Year in 2013. It is vital that the skills and enthusiasm for agriculture are retained and developed, and C&O together with New Holland actively seek to support the next generation of agricultural engineers and nurture their talent."

News from our Midhurst office

Mark Beaumont from the Friends of the Hurtwood takes delivery of a new T5.105 New Holland tractor from C&O's Roy Hill. The tractor was bought by the charity to continue their work managing and maintaining the Hurtwood, the largest area of commonland in Surrey.

We want to know what you think!

C&O are once again conducting a customer survey to find out what you think about us and to see what we can do to improve our service to you. This year it couldn't be easier to give us your views. Visit www.candottractors.com and follow the link on the home page and give us your views through an online form. The survey tool will be open for 6 weeks so you can complete the form at your leisure.

Thank you for taking the time to help us with this research.
