MF KIT EXCELS IN AND AROUND THE NEW FOREST

Tom Gould operates a successful contracting business bordering the New Forest National Park in Hampshire. A fair proportion of the work involves the grassland cycle, from mowing and raking to baling and wrapping on around 1200 acres, after which he and his two staff members move over to fencing during the winter months.

In the spring of 2019, Tom took the view that some of his key items of machinery needed to be replaced. First on the list of new investments was a Massey Ferguson 5713 S 135hp, Dyna-4 tractor, specified with air brakes and LGP tyres. "It's done 1500 hours already," Tom reports, "and it's absolutely the best thing I've bought in years," adding that it's now come to be referred to as 'the Mighty Massey.'

The next purchase to arrive at Kennel Farm was a MF RB 4160V variable round baler, which, after turning out more than 7000 high density bales last summer, has also earned an enthusiastic seal of approval. "We've achieved at least 30 per cent greater bale density than we did before, including hay, straw, haylage and silage," Tom reports.

"It really did handle everything we put it at – including where the job of rowing up had been done using heavy horses! Having the ability to adjust the settings, especially the net, really produces an excellent result, and the feedback from customers has been very positive – particularly when it comes to the greater bale density."

And the rake hasn't failed to please, either. "We did more than 2000 acres with our new MF RK 802 last summer," Tom recalls, "and we're really pleased with what it achieved."

Tom Gould has had a business relationship with C&O's Wilton depot for close on 20 years, where the customer service and back-up provided he describes as "excellent." "I could probably save a few pounds elsewhere," Tom concedes, "but the consistent service I get from these guys is worth a great deal more than that."
